

Status Update: Dutch Bros. drive-through coffee shop plots first OC locations

The Oregon coffee chain with a cult following is planning two stores in Fountain Valley and another in La Habra.

Sally McCrady, chair and president of PNC Foundation, shares a moment with a student at Beyond Blindness. The PNC Grow Up Great program contributed a $50,500 grant to Beyond Blindness for a free, interactive program called Learning Link. (Courtesy of Beyond Blindness)

Learning Link relaunches with $50,500 contribution

Santa Ana-based Beyond Blindness has re-launched its Learning Link program with help from the PNC Foundation.

The PNC Grow Up Great program, a $500 million, multiyear, bilingual early childhood education initiative, contributed a $50,500 grant to Beyond Blindness for the free, interactive program that supports parents who are not able to send their children to preschool on a regular basis.

The curriculum works for participants ages 0 to 5, including those with and without disabilities, and requires adult participation so parents can learn how to effectively engage with their children at home.